

SALT AIR ROAD TO GET FRANCHISE

Municipal Laws Committee Decides to Report Favorably
On the Petition.

CARS COME TO MAIN STREET

Route Fixed Contemplates North Temple Returning Along First South
Street—Electrify in 3 Years.

The municipal laws committee of the city council decided last night to report favorably on the petition of the Salt Lake & Los Angeles Railway company for an electric franchise which will permit the company to run its cars down Main street. After some discussion the committee decided on a route but that will no doubt be amended next Monday night, when it comes up before the city council. The route is fixed by the committee as follows:

From the city limits on the west, the company will run its cars east on South Temple street to Fifth West street, thence north on that street to North Temple, thence east over the Utah Light & Railway company's tracks to First West street, thence east on a track to be constructed by the Salt Air company to Main street, thence south on Main over the Utah Light & Railway company's tracks to First South street, thence west on that street over the Utah Light & Railway tracks to First West, thence north to North Temple street and then back to the city limits over the same streets as provided coming into the city.

PROBABLE CHANGES.

The franchise will require the electrifying of the system to Saltair in three years. It is probable that there will be some change in the route when the report goes to the council next Monday night, as some of the councilmen favor routing the cars over the Utah Light & Railway company's tracks from the fair grounds along North Temple street to Third West street, thence south to South Temple and then east to Main street, then south to First South, then west to Third West and then north to North Temple, and back to the fair grounds and down Ninth West to South Temple, where the present tracks of the Salt Air line are laid out to the city limits.

BLAMES J. E. CAINE.

The license committee investigated the matter of Bergerman & Nelson, selling liquor at the fair grounds, Saturday, at the aviation meet, without first securing a license from the city. Both of the men appeared before the committee and stated that Joseph E. Caine, secretary of the Commercial club, authorized them to open up the bar. They gave the Commercial club 25 per cent, which amounted to $41.60, of the gross receipts for the privilege. The committee decided that Caine, if anybody, should be censured for acting without authority.

ENTERTAINMENT FOR BLIND.

PENSIONS FOR VETERANS.

Utah Indian War Commission Investigating Claims of Many Old Fighters.

The Utah Indian war commission, appointed some time ago by Governor Spry to secure information as to the number of living Indian fighters in the state, and the number of widows that may be entitled to pensions if the federal government sees fit to reward old protectors of the pioneer settlements in the valleys of Utah, now in session in the Armory hall, is busy these days registering the names of the veterans and taking down data. The commissioners are E. A. Wedgwood, J. M. Westwood, M. L. Pratt and J. H. Arthur. They have been through-out the state, and find old veterans ranging in age from 60 up to 93 years old. There are near 5,000 entitled to pensions, provided the proposed bill passes Congress. The regular pension is $8 a month to the man; $12 a month to widows. All individual information must be submitted by Feb. 19, when the matter will be submitted to Congress in the form of a bill, asking that these veterans, or their widows, be granted pensions.

"TERRIBLE FROST" COMING.

Annual Press Club Show Due at the Theater Next Wednesday.

Arrangements have been completed, many rehearsals had, and all things put in readiness for the "Terrible Frost," which will reach the Salt Lake theater next Wednesday night, Feb. 9. The affair is the Press club show and it is to be handed out in large packages. Among some features scheduled are: John F. Tobin and Dr. Ned Hewitt, posing as the Hercules Bros., in the "physical torture" act; Eddie Lauder Penrose as a "gay Scotch laddie" with a monologue filled with lilies and the like; the "Royal Eystallan," under the leadership of Will R. Shibley, a noted band master. The Kilometre pictures will be as great as ever, but Gov. Spry, Sheriff Sharp, Chief Barlow and Mayor Bransford are still wondering whether they can let the public see the pictures. These motionless pictures give a rare idea of the celebrated Jeffries-Johnson fight. Besides that, the "Terrible Frost" has a large number of good things stored up for a number of well known characters.

AMUSEMENTS

Theater—The fifth in the list of impersonations being given by Mantell at the theater was rendered last night in "King Lear." The audience again showed marked improvement over that of the opening night, and the appreciation was as intense as ever.

The production still remains one that is almost entitled to the name of the marvelous. It was given as his opening bill when he opened his Salt Lake engagement here nearly two years ago, and it was fully reviewed at that time, but it may be added that only an actor who knows how to properly produce his tones and to conserve his strength, could ever cope with the vocal requirements of a part like "Lear," especially when played in the same week with "Macbeth," "Othello," "Louis XI" and "Richard III." Through the long and trying scenes last night in nearly every one of which Lear is weeping, shouting or foaming with passion, Mantell filled the role with a rare ability, a deep feeling, and at times, a majesty which could hardly be excelled. Witnessing his performance, one no longer wonders that "King Lear" is not often included in the repertoire of stars of the day, either in America or England. Not only must it tax an actor to a trying degree, but only a master could hope to make the part acceptable. It is long, and sometimes not free from dreariness, and that Mantell could hold his audience through such a stretch, much of which was only monologue work, forms the rarest instance of his powers.

The entire presentation was of the highest grade, especially the stage effects and the engagement ends with "A study in black and white," presented a novelty in aerial work which was unique and original. Three Mission picturegraphs completed the program, which runs all week.

Grand—Uncle Dick Sutton's players continue to grow in public favor and several times during the week the house has been packed. "The Girl Engineer" continues the bill.

"society night" at the Orpheum, will witness a still greater throng.

Colonial—The standing room sign is being put in readiness for the matinee of "The Land of Nod" tomorrow afternoon.

The next attraction at the Colonial will be "Beverly."

Bungalow—Maude Leone and her company are giving the final performance of "When Knighthood Was in Flower." The usual matinee will be given Saturday afternoon. Next week the play will be "Hazel Kirke."

Mission—A crowded house greeted the week-opening performance at the Mission vaudeville theater Thursday evening, and the program was up to the standard maintained since the opening of that pretty playhouse. The first number was a novelty in acrobatic feats of strength by the brothers Damm, one of whom is a vigorous old chap with a gray beard, but as active and supple as the younger man who is his partner. The strong arm feats of the pair were encircled several times. Harry Gordon, who impersonated the leading step dancer of the period, is a young man with a future before him in his chosen field, and did some really clever work. Mr. and Mrs. W. W. O'Brien, the 20th century couple, in their dialogue and singing act, "Doings of the Hour," told some good stories and brought down the house with their final song, "Jeffries is not afraid of the Dark."

The headliner of the evening was the Bohemian sextette, consisting of Miss Bernice Bartlett, Miss Elo Fitz Gerald, Miss Charlotte Bert, William Arnold, George F. Paine and Arthur Deane. Several pleasing solos were rendered by members of the company but by far the best thing was the sextette from "Lucia" with which the number closed.

George H. Wood, the comedian with a style of his own, served a bunch of up-to-date laughing material "right off the funny griddle," and he was recalled several times. Delmore and Lee in their aerial sensation, "A study in black and white," presented a novelty in aerial work which was unique and original. Three Mission picturegraphs completed the program, which runs all week.

THEATER FOR TWIN FALLS.

R. A. Grant Returns From Thriving
Idaho Town.

Salt Lake and Idaho capitalists will erect a $150,000 theater at Twin Falls the coming summer, according to a statement made by R. A. Grant, manager of the Bungalow theater in this city, and a well known theatrical man. Mr. Grant returned last evening from Twin Falls, where he held a conference with I. B. Perrine, A. McPherson, and other leaders of the Twin Falls Commercial club, which has the theater project under way.

"I arrived in Twin Falls at 2 o'clock in the afternoon on Tuesday," said Mr. Grant this morning, "and the meeting was held at 4 o'clock. In less than an hour $40,000 had been subscribed toward the new theater, and instead of erecting a $150,000 building as had at first been planned, it was decided to put up a structure costing $100,000, and containing, besides the theater, a number of stores to be devoted to business purposes."

"Twin Falls is the liveliest town I have visited lately," he observed. "The people here are now, and the business men of the town say there will be $,000 by the time the theater is completed, which will be in the latter part of August. A street car system is to be built there this summer, and the town council has planned to pave 12 miles of streets before the close of the year."

"The interior of the new theater will be patterned after the week last night in this city, and the stage will be the same size as that of the Colonial. The auditorium will seat 1,400 people, and the theater will be modern in every sense of the word. Only the best attractions will be booked for the Twin Falls theater, of the class which now come to the Colonial and Salt Lake theaters. The Twin Falls people are a live bunch, and the movement met with approval at all levels. The money will be ready and the plans for the theater are now being drawn."

Among the incorporators of the new theater are I. B. Perrine of Twin Falls, Frank Kimball of Salt Lake, Alex. McPherson, A. D. Smith of Twin Falls, and R. A. Grant of Salt Lake, the latter to be manager. Other Idaho and Utah men are also interested in the project, which is being pushed with all possible speed to completion.

Do you use an atomizer in treating Nasal Catarrh? If so you will appreciate Ely's Liquid Cream Balm, the quickest and surest remedy for this disease. In all curative properties it is identical with the "old Cream Balm," and in every sense of the word, it is overcoming Catarrh, Hay Fever and Cold in the head. DEATH OF C. M. HENDRICKS.

Charles M. Hendricks, familiarly called "Chad," a printer, died suddenly at 2 o'clock Thursday at the Holy Cross hospital. He was taken ill Wednesday with appendicitis. He was 37 years old, a member of Typographical union No. 115, and lived at 8 Kendall square, where his wife is critically ill, having recently undergone an operation. The deceased has been associated with several Salt Lake newspapers as printer and proofreader during the past five years. His home was in Denver. Three years ago he married a singer, the present Mrs. Hendricks, under romantic circumstances, and moved to Denver for a period, later returning to Salt Lake. His parents now reside at Denver, but it is thought the body will be buried in the Typographical plot at the city cemetery.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Invitations have been issued for the annual breakfast of the Ladies' Literary club to take place on Friday Feb. 18, at the New Louvre.

Mrs. A. E. Kimball gives another in her series of bridge parties this afternoon.

An exceptionally pretty wedding celebrated the marriage of Miss Christina Fyhn and Robert B. Armour last night, the event taking place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. M. A. Fyhn, and Judge W. H. King performing the ceremony. The rooms were beautifully decorated, the parlor in white roses and ferns and the dining room in pink, the table having a centerpiece of pink roses and carnations and streamers of pink ribbon brought from the chandelier to the corners and vases of the same flowers at each end. The bride wore a handsome gown of white chiffon satin trimmed with Duchesse lace and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. Her bridesmaids were Miss Lillah and Miss Vera Sjodahl, the first wearing a gown of pale blue satin and carrying narcissus, and the latter pink satin and carrying violets. The bride's brother, Augustus Fyhn was best man. Assisting in receiving were Mrs. Fyhn and Mrs. J. S. Jensen and in the dining room were the Misses Helen and Augusta Fyhn, sisters of the bride, and the Misses Viola and Thea Jensen and Miss Dagmar Orlow. Mr. and Mrs. Armour left later for a trip to California and upon their return will be at the Moxum.

Miss Lucille Clark is hostess this afternoon at a bridge tea.

Mrs. G. W. Putnam entertains this afternoon for her sister Mrs. W. S. Smallwood of Portland, Or. her affair being a luncheon.

Miss Kate Gabbott gives a Pinafore party this evening her guests being the members of the Undine club.

Mrs. M. M. Atwood gives a theater party this afternoon followed by a tea at Franklin's.

Col. and Mrs. J. J. Daynes gave a theater party last night followed by a supper at Franklin's the table having a mound of pink and white carnations and sweet peas for a centerpiece and candleabra shaded in pink. Covers were laid for about a dozen.

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Lambert entertained at dinner next Tuesday.

Mrs. J. F. Harding leaves shortly for California.

BUS PASSENGERS

Peter M. Maughan of Wellsville, came down from Cache valley Thursday. He reports conditions in fair condition and the people generally prospering. But for two or three years past rainstorms in late summer have been so excessive as to materially reduce the farmers' profits. "You know our seasons seem to be changing," said Mr. Maughan. "We have had more summer rain the past few years than all the 20 years previous put together. I don't know why it is, but it is a fact just the same. These rains have come when our crops were standing matured in the fields ready to be harvested. Considerable damage resulted then. Again, after cutting and stacking, more rain came and more damage followed. But in spite of these losses we are pretty contented and happy."

NEW INCORPORATIONS.

Thomas Atkin, one of Tooele's pioneer settlers, was registered at the New Windsor. He reports that a great deal of land under the Smoot act has been taken up recently in the valleys west and south of Tooele. Citizens from Tooele, Salt Lake City and many other Utah towns have made use of their homestead rights and will try their hands at dry farming this year. Under the new law each homesteader is entitled to 320 acres. To hold this, the must cultivate not less than 40 acres within two years; 40 acres more the next year and half the tract within five years, when he may prove up and get deed to the 320 acres from the government. "We are looking for a great deal of activity on these dry farm lands this summer," said Mr. Atkin, "and we do not believe our rich dry farm lands will disappoint the new owners if they go at it right."

Frank X. Loupy, one of the old pioneers of Tooele, who settled in the valley in the early fifties, was at the New Windsor Thursday. He says: "For 40 years Tooele's population has remained about stationary, some 1,200 to 1,500. But during the last 12 months it has more than doubled. We now have a population of between 3,000 and 4,000 people, and from all indications a right lively little town we will have this summer. There are numerous new homes and business blocks and the great smelter in the valley all go to make up quite a city out there on the west slope of the Oquirrh."

TOY SMITH DISCHARGED.

Colored Man, Accused of Robbery, Conducts His Own Case With Ecstacy.

Toy Smith, colored, who was arrested on the night of Dec. 23 on the charge of robbing W. P. Mahoney of $45 via the "strong-arm" route, on First South between the Salt Lake theater and Main street, was discharged by Judge J. M. Bowman in the criminal division of the city court this morning as the state failed utterly to make out a case of probable cause against Smith.

The latter proved beyond doubt that he could not have committed the crime was in the presence of about 20 persons when the robbery was committed. Smith conducted his defense with considerable ability, and displayed a knowledge of law and court procedure that was rather remarkable and likewise entertaining.

POULTRY MEN MEET.

The Utah State Poultry association elected these officers Thursday evening at the Commercial club: James M. Adams, president; D. Duncan, first vice president; J. W. Haslam, second vice president; E. Larsen of Ogden, vice president from Weber county; J. H. Snider of American Fork, vice president from Utah county; Fred Bergen, vice president from Davis county; Al Smurthwaite, vice president from Cache county; T. H. Cartwright, treasurer; C. J. Sander, secretary, and the following executive committee: Hugh W. Smith, A. H. Vogeler, L. C. Cannon and Dr. Charles G. Plummer. The reports showed that all expenses had been paid and there was money in the treasury. The meeting was largely attended by poultry fanciers and plans talked over for the coming year.

BANK CLERKS' DISCUSSION.

At Thursday evening's meeting of the Salt Lake bank clerks George H. Horne spoke on parliamentary law, Ed Bolschweiler read a paper on "The Man With a Theory," and there were also talks by A. L. Morton on "Post Dating Checks," by J. E. Opanashon on "What is the Object of Protest," by William McEwan on "Redcounting," by R. Q. Cannon on "Presentation of Checks," and by Walter Koeler on "Kiting Checks." There was a demonstration of an adding machine, and it was decided to hold a machine contest at the first regular meeting in March, when Atty. E. C. Ashton will address the body on "Commercial Law."
